DESTROYER EDEN SUNK

British Warship Collided With Another Vessel in the English Channel.

(Special to The Herald)
London, June 17.—The British destroyer Eden has been sunk in the English Channel in collision with another vessel, the Admiralty announced today. Thirty-one members of the crew were saved, and three officers are missing. The collision occurred last night. The Eden was built in 1903. Her normal crew consisted of 70 men.

FIREMAN KILLED ENGINEER HURT

As Bridge Collapses as Train
Passes Over It.

(Special to The Herald)
Harrisburgh, Pa., June 17.—Harry Kaufmann, a fireman, was killed and A. C. Chilcote, an engineer, was fatally injured when a bridge over which a Tuscarora Valley railroad train was passing collapsed near East Waterford today. The heavy rains had washed out one of the abutments. The three cars attached to the engine were badly wrecked, but all of the passengers escaped serious injury. Although they were severely shaken up, the engine went into the creek.

COL. ROOSEVELT FEELING BETTER

Will Return to His Home at Oyster Bay Today.

New York, June 17.—Col. Roosevelt passed a comfortable night and it was announced at the Hotel Langham by his secretary, John F. McGrath, that he is feeling much better today. The pain in the Colonel's left side has abated, although he is still suffering from traces of pleurisy.
"Col. Roosevelt is feeling so well that he plans to return to Oyster Bay later in the day," said Mr. McGrath.

NINTH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Class of Seven Graduated From Eliot
High School on Friday Evening

The ninth annual exercises at the Eliot High school were held at the Congregational church, Eliot, on Friday evening and were largely attended by relatives and friends of the graduates.

The class of 1916 numbered seven as follows: President, Ralph Durgin; secretary-treasurer, Miss Lillian Agnes Staples; Albert H. Dixon; Elmer Mills Goodwin; Ralph Briggs Goodwin; Albert Dixon Staples; and Stephen Carlton Worster. The class colors were green and white, and the class flower the Jack rose.

The programs were neatly printed in booklet form and the front cover bore a cut of the Eliot High school building, altogether it being a very attractive souvenir of the occasion.

The decorations, although simple, were very pretty and effective. At the rear of the platform the wall was adorned with twisted streamers of green and white crepe paper, the platform itself having a pretty arrangement of palms and ferns. The class motto, "Excelsior," was supported by two columns placed at the front of the platform the color scheme of this being worked out in an artistic manner. The effect of the whole, from its very simplicity was especially pleasing. Small crossed flags were placed about each window, and the class gift to the school, a handsome picture, was veiled with a large flag, which at the proper time was presented.

At 8 o'clock the procession of teachers, superintendent and students were marshalled in to music rendered by an orchestra. When all were seated the following program was presented in a way which reflected to both teachers and pupils.

The gold medal for general efficiency in the year's school work, donated by the teachers, was won by Miss Theresa Spinney with Miss Lillian Woods so close a second in rank that it was announced that a medal will be given her also.

The work of the school has been very satisfactory and the Principal, Leon P. Spinney, an Eliot man and a graduate of Colby college, with his assistants Miss Elizabeth Brooks and Miss Maud Spill are to be heartily congratulated on the way their pupils acquitted themselves in their final role as members of the Eliot High school, a credit to their teachers, their school and their town.

CLASS OPEN THEIR REUNION AT RYE BEACH

1901 Class Has $10,000 to Spend on Week's Celebration.

The class of 1901 of Harvard will hold a reunion at the Farnight House Rye Beach, on Monday next. Two days will be passed at Rye and two at Cambridge, ending with the Harvard-Yale boat race at New London. Over $10,000 has been raised by the class for this reunion, and the week will be one round of class dinners, sports and a general good time.

RECEIVES WHAT HE SUED FOR

Kensington Man Awarded
$150 in Deceitful Horse
Trade Case.

The last jury case to be tried in Exeter at the Rockingham county superior court resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff, John P. Blake of Kensington, of $150, against Charles M. Evans of Hallowell, for alleged deceit in a horse trade. This was the amount that the plaintiff sued for.

The counsel for the plaintiff was Shute and Shute of Exeter, and for the defendant, John L. Mitchell of the firm of Page, Barlett and Mitchell of this city. The panel consisted of Walter H. Scott of Deerfield, John H. Webster of Berry, Alfred B. Plummer of Londonderry, Charles H. Johnson of Danville, John B. Germondson of Newton, Ray Pike of Brentwood, Eugene H. Beckman of Seabrook, Wesley P. Hodgdon of Raymond, Charles E. Fiske of Candia, John A. Garland of Hampstead, Fred E. Henderson of this city and Joseph G. Morrison of Exeter.

Monday morning the jury reports here for the hearing of cases, they being all Portsmouth cases. Friday Judge Kivel heard nothing. Judge John E. Young will hear the Portsmouth cases.

WANT GARDENER TO TESTIFY

Was Told by Orpet's Father to Throw Poison Away.

(Special to The Herald)
Waukegan, Ill., June 17.—With the high and dry of conventions ended, Lake County, plumbly settled back today to watch the fight which Will Orpet is making to escape the gallows for the death of Marion Lambert. For several weeks now the case has pursued its turbulent course with first one side and then the other appearing to have the advantage of the legal jockeying. Today the advantage seemed to be with the state. When court opened Judge Donnelly had under consideration a request from the prosecution and a protest from the defense that Percy Longland, assistant gardener on the McCormick estate, be called to the stand. It was Longland, the state contends, that threw away the cyanide of potassium stored in the McCormick greenhouse at the order of Edward Orpet, the boy's father who is overgeer of the estate. Longland already has confessed to the prosecution, according to State's Attorney Dady, that he was told "to throw the stuff away" three days after Marion Lambert was found dead and to "forget that he had it."

BRITISH LINER ON FIRE

The Clare Ross, Anchored in the Mersey at Liverpool.

(Special to The Herald)
Liverpool, June 17.—Fire broke out today on the British liner Clan Ross which was anchored in the Mersey river. It was still burning fiercely this afternoon. The liner is a 6,071-ton ship, sailing from Glasgow.

UNITED STATES WILL INTERVENE IN MEXICO

Watchful Waiting Ends--Army Transport Summer
On Way to Tampico to Take Aboard Americans
--National Guard to Be Called Out

(Special to The Herald)

Washington, June 17.—Army officers here today are getting ready for intervention in Mexico. They did not attempt to disguise their belief that intervention should be forced on this government before the end of the month. Talk of getting ready for any eventuality has ceased. Now they know what they are getting ready for. General Finston today forwarded to the war department a report from Gen. Bell, American commander at El Paso, confirming statements that warning had been given by Gen. Trevino, Carranza commander, that if any more Americans crossed the border they would be attacked. Trevino also threatened to attack American troops already in Mexico if there was any movement by them. General Finston's dispatches follow:

"Following by telephone from Gen. Bell at El Paso: 'Word has reached that Trevino states if any more troops cross border or any attempt is made to move troops already in Mexico they will be attacked by Mexican forces.' Signed, Finston."

The army transport Summer has been ordered to proceed immediately to Tampico, Mexico, and take all Americans from that port. There are believed to be 150 American citizens there. The orders were secretly issued Friday and the Summer is now on her way to that port from Newport News, Va. It is learned that the State Department has instructed Assistant Secretary Roosevelt to use every means to get all Americans out of Mexican coast towns "before the break comes."

Gen. Finston stated positively that Major Gray of the 14th cavalry had crossed the Rio Grande into Mexico when pursuing bandits that raided San Ignacio, killing three American soldiers. Major Gray went as far as Martinez, where he lost trace of the bandits and returned to American soil. Major Gray found the body of one dead Mexican on American soil and captured two Mexicans who are supposed to have taken part in the raid. A report was circulated here today that all state militia organizations would be called out for use in Mexico before the end of next week. One official stated that arrangements are now being made for the general call which would be issued within a few days.

CZAR'S TROOPS PROGRESSING

Continue to Capture Large Number of Prisoners and Booty.

(Special to The Herald)

Petrograd, June 17.—Although the Austro-Hungarian resistance has been stiffened in Galicia by the arrival of reinforcements of Germans, the Russians continue to make progress all along the line. The number of prisoners in the hands of the Russians is daily increased by fresh batches of captives while the booty is of such enormous quantities that the Germans have begun to feel its loss very keenly. Along the Styria bridge, head positions of the Germans are under heavy fire. Further to the south in the Bukovina section, infantry actions of furious intensity are under way. Dispatches from the front dwell upon the increasing violence of the artillery duelling along the Drina

PORTSMOUTH MEN IN LINE OF MARCH

Six of Them in Preparedness

Among those who marched in the preparedness parade in Albany, N. Y., on Thursday were several former Portsmouth men. They were Christopher Newton, formerly of the Jones Brewing Company, James Hartwell of the Portsmouth Shoe Company, Daniel Fox, a former machinist on the navy yard, George McAllister, an old time printer in Portsmouth, Daniel Cogan, a former coachman, and B. B. Mudge, Jr., who has been visiting in Albany. They were in line with business men's delegation of Albany.

HAMER FIRST PITCHER TO GET NO-HIT GAME

Held C. C. C. to no Hits and no Runs in Game
With Marines.—Driscoll; Allows Only One Hit.—
Game Ends Without Score

Hamer, pitcher for the U. S. M. C., is the first league pitcher to get a no-hit, no-run game in the 1916 season, having held the team leading the Sunset League runless and hitless for the five innings the light permitted in last evening's contest. The game ended in another tie, neither team being able to score. Driscoll, pitching for the Coal Company, was nearly as effective as Hamer, holding the Marines runless and allowing but one hit, that made by Manager McCrory in the fourth inning, a pipkin of a drive into deep left field for one extra base. The hit was made after two men had been retired and Driscoll fanned the following batter, McCrory never passing second base.

It was a pitcher's battle all the way through, both men working hard and steady throughout the contest. Hamer fanned ten batters in the five innings and Driscoll made eight of the men facing him retire on strikes. There were but two errors made in the game, neither being very costly. The first was made by Chaplain Scott in the third when he dropped the fast throw from Reynolds on Kilpatrick's hard grounder. Kilpatrick succeeded in getting around to third by stepping, but that was his limit and he died there. In the fourth inning Jimmy Able drove the ball through Reynolds but he did not get past second. With these three exceptions the only ones to reach bases were three men passed; one by Hamer and two by Driscoll. Hamer had a little the best of the duel.

In the fielding end of the encounter, the Coal Company had the better of the argument, playing the game without a sign of an error. Walter Woods pulled a couple of surprises as many fans were under the impression that his whip was gone to the hopyard. Two runners had this idea rattling around in their heads and were cut down stealing. Burns attempting a steal as Reynolds missed a third strike the throw to Collins catching him a good foot from the bag.

McCrory was throwing well, also, one throw nailing Rutledge at third. When the game was called at the end of the fifth, neither side having been able to score, a number of the fans were of the opinion that it might have been well to play one more inning. On the whole, Umpire McGraw may have shown excellent judgment in ending the game for had the evening become very much darker and one side scored, the run would have resulted in probable dispute unless made on clean hits. It was a fast game with nothing specacular, but plenty of good, heady work for the batteries.

The Game
1st Inning.—Eberhard, Scott and McCrory were fanned. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Harrington grounded and was tossed out by Hamer. Collins and Able fanned. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

2d Inning.—Deleiden flied to Gorman, Hamer flied to Kelly. LeValley fanned. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Gorman fanned. Rutledge drew a pass and stole. He was out at third attempting to steal. McCrory to Eberhard. Woods was tossed out by Hamer. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

3d Inning.—Littwyler walked and stole second. He was out at third, Driscoll to Rutledge on Burns' grounder. Burns reaching first on the fielder's choice. Reynolds fanned and Burns was out attempting barney. Woods to Collins. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Kilpatrick was safe when Scott dropped Reynolds' throw of his grounder. He stole second and third. Kelly and Driscoll fanned. NO HITS, ONE ERROR, NO RUNS.

Collins fanned. Able reached first on Reynolds' error and stole second. Gorman and Rutledge fanned. NO HITS, ONE ERROR, NO RUNS.

4th Inning.—Hamer and LeValley fanned. Littwyler walked and stole second. Burns was tossed out by Driscoll. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Woods flied to LeValley. Kilpatrick hit on a grounder. Eberhard to Scott. Kelly fanned. NO HITS, NO ERRORS, NO RUNS.

Game called by Umpire McGraw.

BOXING NOTES

At the next meeting of the Armory A. A. fancy boxing will be dispensed with. A real old time bangup scrap will be on the menu and Gilbert Gallant of Chelsea and Walter Barker of Revere will go to it at a pace that is sure to leave one or the other winded before they are under way. Long left hooks will shoot bitter and son from Gallant's ponderous fists, while Barker will drive straight jabs and hard swings at the boy who has been absent from the ring for several months. Barker claims he will have something on him in the matter of judgment of distance and he feels confident that he will stop Gallant's rushes with his left. The Revere boy's taunts led up to the consummation of the match, Barker since Gallant has been in business in Revere has told him at every opportunity that he was through, "all in" and a "has been." It didn't listen well to Gallant and he hid his time to get even. He says he will do so next Tuesday.

"I'll battle him with one of the hooks that laid out Leach Cross," said Gallant after he finished training yesterday. Cross was a game fellow and got up, I'm going to see if Barker will. He doesn't strike me like a fellow that would stay up under fire. I have been told that some people don't like the match because I have been on the shelf for some time. That doesn't make a bit of difference to me.

"I don't care whether there is 50 or 5000 in the house when we meet. I want to show Barker just how brilliant a battler he is and how a 'has been' can work. If he whips me I am willing to retire. I know that I can through for sale if such as he can whip me, and I will gladly give my uniform to any aspiring boxer so that I will not have it around to refresh my memory of my farewell appearance.

"It will be a sure sign that I am 'all in' and 'has been' if Barker can whip me, and the signal for me to attend to business."

Gallant is in good shape. He keeled over his sparring partner yesterday with a left hook and proved that he did not mis-spell his time while he was working with Mike Glover, Alex.

THROW OUT THE LINE

Give Them Help and Many Portsmouth People Will Be Happier.

"Throw Out the Line" Weak kidneys need help. They're often overworked — they don't get the poison filtered out of the blood.

Will you help them? Don't's Kidney Pills have brought benefit to thousands of kidney sufferers.

Portsmouth testimony proves their worth. Mrs. M. O. Delano, 137 N. W. Street, Portsmouth, says: "Backache used to bother me a great deal and hindered me in my work. Headaches were also frequent and my kidneys were irregular in action. I used one box of Donan's Kidney Pills and surely got good relief. I recommend this medicine in the highest terms."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Donan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Delano had. Foster-McIlwain Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MacLean says that the boy of Gallant has had him a lot of good, and he is full of "pop" at the present time. MacLean looks for Gallant to stop Butler.

Under the watchful eyes of Al Belmont, Butler is daily taking exercises that will serve him well when the battle starts. There is considerable interest in the bout and a large crowd will be out to see the team in action.

Kid Lee of Chelsea and Johnny Downs of South Boston will appear in one bout; Johnny Noonan of Dorchester and Billy Myers of New York appear in another, and Bob Haart and Jimmy Gray open the show with a six round bout.

It is a well balanced card and it looks like a night of genuine scrapping at the Triple A.

WITH THE LOCAL SPORTS

With three games this week postponed or tied, necessitating the playing of them at a later date, unless some method is adopted pretty soon by the league directors the season is pretty much likely to go into the middle of December. It is understood that the directors are considering several plans the playing of double headers among others. This will mean that one of the games will have to be started at 5:00 o'clock and that the fans are going to get a lot of baseball. It will prove a satisfactory arrangement to everyone but the scribes.

The list of games to be played in addition to the regular schedule has grown to ten. That means that there are forty-five games yet to be played. The season is supposed to end on Friday, August 4th. That means that there are thirty-five more playing days in the season to play forty-five games. It isn't expected that all of the thirty-five days will be fair and more games will have to be put over. Looks as though some games will have to be played on Saturdays.

If the weather is anywhere near reasonably fair today the Portsmouth Country Club will hold another of its Saturday afternoon handicap tournaments. The golfers are looking forward to a couple of fine days as their clubs are getting rusty for the want of a little use. The manufacturers of golf balls are kicking at the weatherman as well as the lovers of the sport.

Events in yachting circles will move along quickly from this time on. The first planned for this week being a club run to Little Harbor on Sunday afternoon races have been planned for both motor boats and sailing yachts and the yachtsmen are taking an active interest in getting their boats groomed for the speed contests.

The Portsmouth Driving Club has evidently given up the hopes of holding their planned meeting until July 4th. The event had been scheduled for Memorial Day and was postponed from one Saturday to the next until the members of the club became thoroughly disgusted with the brand of weather being handed out each succeeding week.

The boxing fans have only a few days to wait until the big night with the Rockingham A. C. meets with three star bouts on its card. Dave Powers, Joe Startz, Bennie Lewis, Steve Travers, Harry Ah Chang and Tommie West look like sufficient talent for one evening. In all there will be twenty-six rounds of fast fighting. One of the fights that is attracting much attention is the bout between Travers and Lewis. Lewis has claimed the 112 pound championship of New Hampshire and Travers the same in Maine. This looks like a pretty fair opportunity to see which state can raise the better class of boxers.

The P. A. C., now considered as contenders for the 1916 Sunset League pennant, will be seen on the diamond twice this coming week; working against the Y. M. C. T. on Monday evening and the Morley Button Company on Wednesday. The Y. M. C. A. took the game by a 2 to 0 score at their first clash, the P. A. C. men getting but two hits. Things are very likely to be different this time, as the batters are hitting their stride. In the P. A. C. Morley game the Champions took the first by a 9 to 1 score. If history repeats itself, the champs are going to win two next week and thus make considerable progress towards the top.

If you want business all the time keep advertising.

BOWLING

Dow Takes Weekly Roll-Off

With a three-string total of 315-R Dow led the field in the Arcade roll-off last evening, taking first place. Dow's high single was 113, the same high single score made by Clint Kingsbury, who rolled a total of 302 for second place. Abrams was third with a total of 297. The summary:

LITERARY NOTES

The July American Magazine is an interesting article by Merle Crowell about "Uncle John" Brashers, astronomer and scientist, considered by Charles M. Schwab to be the most wonderful man he has ever met. There are a number of other articles on timely subjects, and an unusually good assortment of fiction.

The fiction includes "The Cinderella Stuff," by Oscar Graevé, "Hen's Friend, the Bear," by Hugh S. Fuller, "Little Hacks of Kindness," another "Victor" story, by Sophie Kerr, "The Ghost in the Gallery," a powerful murder story by William McIlwain, and "Annie's Ma," by Jack Lail.

"Between Two Worlds," a love serial of stage and society people, is continued by Philip Curtiss.

Among the special articles is one entitled "How I Made Them Hire Me" by an anonymous writer who tells how he secured a ten-thousand-dollar job after he was down and out at forty-two. This is one of the series entitled "Your Hidden Powers and Some of the Keys to Unlock Them."

"Too In" by Dr. Arthur R. Reynolds, former Health Commissioner of Chicago, explains why so many feel hurt and how to take care of them. "A Fine Achievement at Small Cost," by Walter Pritchard Eaton, describes the revolution in American drama that has been started by the Washington Square Players, a group of young and ambitious semi-professionals. Among the other articles and stories are "Can Any State Dent Iowa?" by Herbert Quick, "The Highest Room," by Daragh and Rosemary Aldrich, and "Can You Drink and Hold Your Job?" by Edwin P. Bowers.

The department on Interesting People includes an unusual sketch of John Hays Hammond and his son. The results of the contest on will power and the department on "The Family's Money" contain several short articles of practical interest.

Constipation causes headache, indigestion, dizziness, drowsiness. For a mild, opening medicine, use Doan's Kidney Pills. 25c a box at all stores.

Trapshooting Benefits Women

It creates and cultivates the spirit of self-reliance, helps build up a robust physique and establishes poise, concentration and quick-mindedness. In a word, trapshooting combines pleasure, exercise and recreation in a most attractive form. That's why it's called "The Sport Alluring."

Thousands of women throughout the country are enthusiastic endorsers of the sport. Try it, and you, too, will enjoy it.

Write for booklet: "Diana of the Traps" E. J. du Pont de Nemours & Company, Wilmington, Delaware. Plan your vacation to include a visit to the Du Pont Trapshooting School, on Young's Mill Pond, at Atlantic City, N. J.

RUSSIANS MAKE PRISONERS OF 164,000 AUSTRIANS

Battle for Capture of Czernowitz Still Going in Favor of Czar's Forces-- Capture of the Stronghold Believed Near

Petrograd, June 16, via London.—The capture of an additional 100 Austrian officers and 11,000 men was announced today by the war office. The Russian successes in the offensive along the southern front are continuing, the statement declares.

According to figures previously announced, the Austrian prisoners now total 164,000. This is the 13th day of the Russian drive.

Austrians Making Stand to Defend Farm Country

London, June 16.—With Czernowitz semi-officially reported captured, the Russian offensive is now driving westward toward Stanislau in an effort to completely cut the Austrian communications between Lemberg and all of the southern points of the line. If the Russians are successful the Austrian Czernowitz army will either have to stand its ground or retreat through the Carpathians and down on to the plains of Hungary. For the Russians to reach and occupy the rich farming country of the plains would be a serious blow to the central powers, now practically dependent on the coming harvest for enough food to enable them to continue the war.

Reports from Berlin, Petrograd and Vienna all make patent that the Austrians in an effort to prevent the complete cut have stiffened their defenses. This is most apparent in the section directly east of Lemberg, although noticeable in the Stanislau region.

The Russians continue to advance steadily in the indentation they have made in the line at Lutsk. The most decided gains are along the line of the Rovno, Lutsk, Kovel railroad, with Kovel the goal. Its capture would be a more decisive blow than the taking of Czernowitz.

French Break Down Attacks by Germans

Paris, June 16.—Powerful German attacks made last night on the French positions southeast of Thionville farm on the Verdun front broke down under the French machine gun and infantry fire, according to today's statement by the war office.

The statement says the Germans began their assault at 6 o'clock, in the evening on the right bank of the Meuse from Hill No. 321 to the edge of Hill No. 320. At the same time another attack was launched at the southern edge of the Callette wood. All attacks were repulsed.

The trench captured by the French on the southern slope of Dead Man Hill was also the subject of several German counter attacks during the night, all of which failed.

It is announced that the total number of prisoners taken by the French at the time of the capture of the trench is 5 officers and 180 soldiers.

Report Bulgarians Are Sending Forces to Roumania

Athens, June 16, via London.—It was reported in Athens today that the Bulgarians were withdrawing the majority of their forces from Salonica to the Roumanian frontier.

Give Details of Czernowitz Evacuation

Petrograd, via London, June 16.—Details of the reported evacuation of Czernowitz by the Austrians are given in a dispatch from Bukovina by way of Bucharest, received by the semi-official Petrograd News Agency.

The dispatch says that before abandoning the city the Austrian authorities arrested a number of persons who were forced to accompany the retreating troops. The railway rolling stock was sent to Iekani and the tracks about the city were destroyed. Trainloads of wounded were dispatched to Dornavatra, 17 miles southwest of Czernowitz.

German Auxiliary Sunk

Berlin, via wireless, June 16.—The German auxiliary steamer, Herrman, was attacked by four Russian destroyers in Norrköping bay. Wednesday, it was announced today, and after making heroic resistance, caught fire. The crew sank the Herrman. The commander and a large part of the crew are reported safe.

Chamber in Secret Session

Paris, June 16.—The French Chamber of Deputies went into secret session this afternoon to interpellate the government on the defensive preparations made in France prior to the attack at Verdun.

Italians Repulse Austrians

Rome, via London, June 16.—Austro-Hungarian troops, estimated to number 18,000 attacked in dense formation the Italian positions on the Asiago plateau yesterday, but they were repulsed, leaving piles of corpses before the Italian trenches, says an official statement given out by the war office here today.

Announce French Failure

Berlin, June 16, via London.—Two attacks delivered by the French yesterday and last night on the German line along the southern slope of Dead Man Hill, Verdun front, were unsuccessful, the war office announced today. In the first attack the French temporarily gained some ground, but a counter attack drove them back.

Claim Further British Retreat

Constantinople, via London, June 16.—A further withdrawal by the British below Kut-el-Amara on the Tigris after the recent repulse by the Turks of an attempt to advance is reported in a statement today by the Turkish war office.

German Mass Forces Against Allied Onslaught

London, June 16.—The Germans apprehensive of a big allied offensive on the west front, are continually re-enforcing their lines there. Dispatches from Holland agree. From Knoche, in the Belgian territory occupied by the Germans, troop-laden cars are going toward the front in a never-ending procession. These are covered with green boughs to prevent the allied air men from seeing them readily.

On the streets here, in the clubs, in the restaurants and on the trains persons discuss with marked interest the cryptic sentence in the French semi-official report of Wednesday, which reads: "The Germans in front of Verdun are maintaining an attitude of expectation in view of the menace of events which they feel are becoming more and more imminent."

To most it means that the big drive is soon to start—to start at the strategic moment when the increasing momentum of the Russian drive will leave the German commanders with no choice but to have their line smashed somewhere either in France or Russia.

CREDIT PROHIBITION WITH DECREASE IN CONVICTS

Atlanta, Georgia, June 16.—Georgia convict camps are being consolidated because of a shortage of convicts. Sixty deputy wardens have already been cut off and further reductions are promised. Prohibition is given credit for diminution of crime and the consequent decrease in the number of convicts.

ARKANSAS REPORTS LIGHT PEACH CROP

Fort Smith, Ark., June 16.—The Arkansas peach crop is light. Growers estimate that no more than 2000 car loads will be produced this season.

JUNIOR CLASS SCORES SUCCESS WITH A COMEDY

CLASS OF 1917 OF THE PORTSMOUTH HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED "MY LORD IN LIVERY" LAST EVENING.

A distinct dramatic success was scored on Friday evening by the class of 1917, Portsmouth High school, when the Juniors presented "My Lord in Livery," a bright farce comedy, before a large audience in Assembly Hall, high school building. The evening was given over to the Junior class and was the first of several events planned for the commencement season. Theodore Butler, president of the class presided.

Several selections, the work of American authors, were presented in an excellent manner by members of the class. In this list, Constance Brackett, Jennie Lynn, Edith Boyd, Anselma Foss, Eunice Loring and Ronald Beckley.

The cast in the comedy included Constance Brackett, John Cotton, Jennie Lynn, Norman Haines, and Mark Neville. Each of the actors presented their lines in a polished and creditable way and the plot of the little play was one which held the interest of the entire audience to the close.

A candy sale, candles having been made by the girl members of the class, was held, under the direction of Edith Gibson, vice president of the class. Miss Gibson was assisted by the Misses Mjoe Badger, Constance Brackett and Louise Blaisdell.

Between the numbers of the program and musical program was rendered by the high school orchestra.

DAILY SPORT LETTER

Nick Cullip, a pitching hireling of Cap Huston and Col. Ruppert, is living up to predictions made for him by his Federal league boosters a few days ago.

Nick never amounted to an awful lot when he was heaving them from the porridge in behalf of the Cleveland club. Some days he pitched good ball—and on other occasions the natives after watching his efforts, resorted to profanity.

When Nick hopped from organized baseball into the arms of the Feds, no one in Cleveland wept over it. The resident set Ohio's fairest municipality regarded Nick's loss as nothing worthy of grief. But at that moment up rose George Stovall who spoke thusly:

"Nick is just reaching his full development. Before the 1915 season has skidded down along the vales of history Nick will be regarded as a regular pitcher."

When the complete returns were in for the season it was found that Mr. Nick had compiled a batting average superior by far to that of any other southpaw in the Gilmore circuit.

"But that is nothing," exclaimed the skeptical. "Being the best left hander among the Feds isn't worth getting excited about. That guy Cullip is just a good busher—that's all."

In the due course of time Nick became the property of the Yankees. It cost Huston and Ruppert something like $12,500 to acquire him, whereas many, many persons ejaculated:

"Gold brick."

The season is a bit more than two months old. Nick has pitted his flinging wing against the best clubs in the Johnson circuit, and, in the majority of cases has achieved victory. In short, Nick is looked upon right now as the best southpaw in the American league. And the "goldbrick" folks are strangely silent.

Hal Chase undoubtedly is glad that Garry Herrmann was a bit harsh—and firm—with him when Hal decided he'd much rather play in the Pacific coast league than with the Redlegs. Of course, no one can play with the Reds and be perfectly happy at the same time, but Hal is more joyous than he hoped to be.

It was this way: Harry Sinclair assumed the contract of Chase, and after considerable dickering sold the Peerless First Sackerto Garry Herrmann. When the sad news was carried to Chase, he at once got in touch with Sinclair:

"Please, kind sir, do not add to the sorrows of my life by making me play in Cincinnati," pleaded Hal. "Let me go to the California league. If you do I will accept a cut of $2000 per year in my two year iron-clad contract."

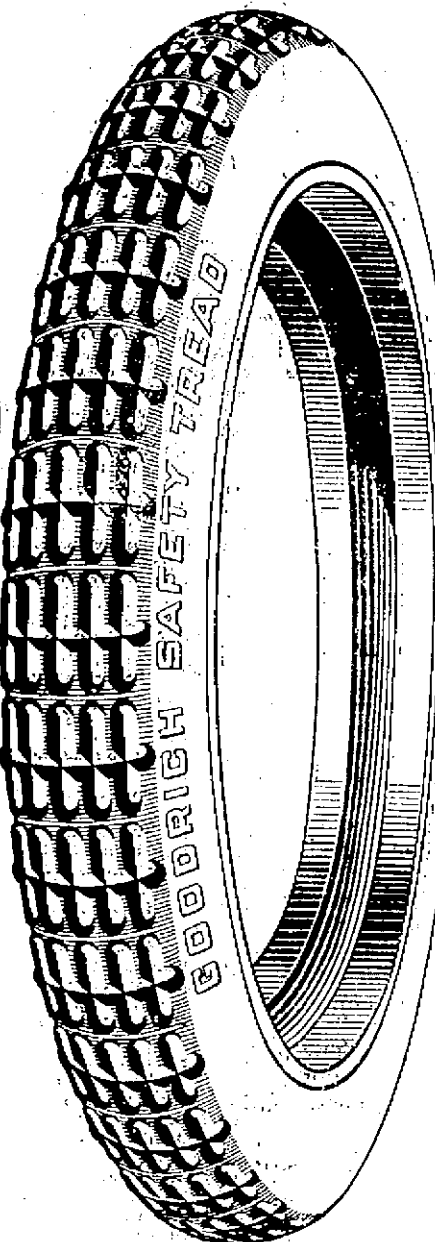

"You don't belong to me any longer," answered Sinclair. "Speak to Herrmann."

Hal got in touch with Herrmann, recited his plea and then listened to what Garry said:

"You'll play in Cincinnati or nowhere."

Rather than be forced out of baseball Chase decided to go to the Reds. His real objection of getting back into the majors was that he feared ridicule, if he failed to deliver the goods. During recent years Chase achieved the unenviable honor of being the most panned man in baseball. Chase had stood as much of it as he could. He wanted to go some place—like

The "Gold-Standard" in Tires

GOODRICH Tire Values are not at all "Accidental." They spring from Conditions which are logical as the Laws of the Universe.

The Best-intentioned Tire Manufacturer cannot AVOID being heavily handicapped when competing against them.

Because, Goodrich "Conditions" summarize into this:—

1st—The longest Experience in Mfg. the Product.

2nd—The greatest Leverage on purchasing of Raw Materials at lowest prices, through ability to take largest quantities.

3rd—The lowest Cost of Manufacturing, through largest VOLUME of Output.

4th—The clearly-demonstrated INTENTION to give Consumers and Dealers the full benefit of the large ECONOMIES resulting from possession of the three Cardinal Advantages above defined.

THE Product of such a Rubber Concern,—when marketed under such conditions,—giving the benefit of such huge Economies to Consumers may, well, and logically, be considered the "GOLD-STANDARD" in Tire Values. Therefore:—

—When you pay MORE than the Goodrich Fair-list prices, here printed, for ANY Fabric Tire, you are merely "contributing" the difference.

Because,—You CANNOT get "better" Fabric Tires,—at ANY price!

Test them thoroughly,—and see!

California—where the knockers were fewer. But as you know Chase joined the Reds and he has become one of the idols of the town. His playing at home and abroad has been spectacular. He has been hitting and with considerable frequency. His fielding, both around first base and in the garden have been brilliant.

Hal Chase expected he'd become a goat by going back into the majors. Instead, he has become a hero again.

What do you make of the case of Frank Shultz of the Cubs?

In 1911 he hit for 300; in 1912 he totalled 264; in 1913 it was 273; in 1914 it was 241 and last year it was 216.

And now here is Shultz in 1916, his 14th in the majors and his 34th on this earth, breezing along with the race at a whirlwind clip.

Up to the present time Shultz has hit far beyond any mark he has ever annexed during his long career in the majors. And he shows no sign of cracking. Rather, he is hitting them harder and often every week. At the advanced age of 34, old "Whirlwind" ought to be headed in the general direction of the baseball junk yard. But instead, his average far beyond the 300 figure, points him directly toward the goal of every batsman—the clubbing leadership of his league.

Yes, you might just as well add the case of Frank Shultz to that of many others to support the claim that baseball is a game of constant surprises.

Celebrating the Fourth.

Owing to the exceptional lateness of the spring with its unseasonable weather it is almost impossible to realize that we are as near as we are to the Fourth of July, the great national holiday. Not that it was ever made a national holiday by any act of Congress, but in 1776 it was felt that the conditions of the time warranted a general celebration of the most hilarious character, and this was held. There were fireworks, bells were rung, horns were tooted and old and young had the jolliest kind of a time in celebrating the decision of the colonies to throw off the foreign yoke and stand on their own footing. Congress never made the day a legal holiday, but this was done by every state in the Union and the Glorious Fourth is consequently properly regarded as the great national holiday.

For many years the celebration of the day was similar to the first celebration. It was a noisy demonstration, but with the noise there was the reading of the Declaration of Independence, patriotic speeches, etc., all calculated to keep alive and stimulate the spirit of patriotism. As time went on the intellectual features were gradually dropped and in most communities the celebration sifted down to a season of bedlam, a day of distress and danger. Fireworks and arms of a dangerous character were placed in the hands of the young and irresponsible, and the celebration resulted in alarming numbers of casualties and deaths.

But in the last few years there has been a great and welcome change in the method of celebrating the Fourth of July. Pure boisterousness and unrestricted indulgence in dangerous fireworks have been replaced by safer and saner methods of expressing the joyousness of the people on this great and sacred anniversary. Danger has been almost wholly removed without detracting from the enjoyment of the day, and many of the programs now followed are educational as well as entertaining. In many places pageants play a prominent part in the observances of the day and there is much to direct the thoughts to what the day means to the people of this great and growing nation.

The excesses which grew up under the old form of celebration made the day one to be dreaded by all but the reckless and hilarious elements of the population, but it is now welcomed as an occasion for a safe and sensible display of patriotism on the part of old and young, not followed by a list of casualties reminding one of a battle between armies.

The reform that has been brought about in connection with the celebration of this day reflects credit upon the American people, and upon the men and women who so ably led the work of reform.

Reform has taken a firm grip upon Virginia. The Sunday laws are being rigidly enforced. Drug stores can sell medicines only. The garages have been closed, also the places that sell tobacco and soft drinks, and the authorities are said to be thinking of shutting down on the Sunday newspapers. But it is hardly probable that this will be done. The people will want the papers in order to keep posted on how the reform is working out.

The Barbers' Union of St. Louis has adopted resolutions calling upon Mr. Hughes and Mr. Fairbanks to have their whiskers shaved off. The union is entitled to what fun it can get out of this action, but before the campaign ends the Republican candidates for president and vice president may give their opponents something besides whiskers to think about.

A medical man says the epidemic of grip last winter may have been due to the fact that the disease was prevalent among horses, which may have transmitted it to the human family. But is the doctor sure that the transmission, if such there was, was not in the other direction and that the horses have not a right to greet his contention with neigh, neigh.

The weather bureau is all wrong when it says that not much rain has fallen of late, and it might have added that there has also been very little sunshine. If it were not for the long lists of wedding notices in the newspapers the people would hardly realize that it is the month of June.

The hotel men and others in St. Louis have been reaping the advantages of convention week for the last few days. In view of the crowding and the large amount of money that is put in circulation it is no wonder that cities bid high for national conventions.

The weather has swatted the fly pretty severely thus far this season. But he will have his inning one of these days, and then the rest of us will have to take a hand. The swatting must go on.

HOLDS MANY RESPONSIBLE POSITIONS

Charles Jerome Edwards Made a Director of the Brooklyn Mechanics Bank.

The many friends of Charles Jerome Edwards in this city will be pleased to learn that he was recently elected a director of the Brooklyn Mechanics Bank. Mr. Edwards is well known here, having married Miss Edith Wendell, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Wendell of Pleasant Street. Speaking of Mr. Edwards' election to the directorship of this important bank the Brooklyn Eagle says:

Mr. Edwards is metropolitan manager of the Equitable Life and directs two agencies in Brooklyn, two in Manhattan and one in the Bronx for that company. He is one of the younger representative men of the borough and has been active in club and civic affairs, as well as in business and political circles during the past twenty-five years. He has never held public office, except that of Commissioner of Elections, under the Schermer administration. He is not a "joiner," but belongs to many organizations, in each of which he is an influential factor and has been an officer in many of them and is also a director in many financial institutions.

In addition to being the manager of the Equitable, he is vice president of the Manhattan Bridge Three-Cent Line, director of the Eastern District Savings Bank, director of the city of New York Insurance Company and the New York Plate Glass Insurance Company. Was a former president of the Life Underwriters' Association of New York and for two terms president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, also president of the General Agency Association of the Equitable Life.

In the realm of sports he has been a well-known figure in automobile and aeronautics; is former president of the Long Island Automobile Club and is vice president of the Aero Club of America, being one of the first in America to become interested in aeroplanes. He is a member of the Brooklyn Club, the Lawyers' Club, the Lotus Club, National Democratic Club and the Bankers' Club in the Borough of Manhattan. He has just been nominated for president of the Rotary Club of Brooklyn.

As a traveler he has visited the byways rather than the highways of travel. He has just completed a three months' cruise around South America, visiting all the ports, capitals and places of archaeological interest on that continent. His travels in Europe and Northern Africa have been to places of historical interest rather than the marts of trade and popular resorts. Just after the Italian War, two years ago, he made an extended trip through Dalmatia, Montenegro, Albania and the lower Balkans. Without being an expert, he is considered an authority on many subjects. Mr. Edwards is a virile and inspiring speaker and has made addresses in many of the large cities of the United States. And this notwithstanding the fact that he is a product of the farm and district school rather than the university.

The Observer

That the present season will be a backward one owing to the continued rainfalls is generally understood, but I do not believe that the general public realizes the condition from the farmers' standpoint. I was talking with a well known farmer from York this week and he informed me that acres of land that were usually planted with potatoes and other vegetables at this time of the year, were so inundated with water that no attempt had been made to do any planting. What applies to York must apply in many other places and unless we are favored with some good weather ere long there will be a great shortage of vegetables which are so essential to every one, especially the people in moderate circumstances.

A visitor here on Friday was Rev. D. M. Waldron, city missionary of Boston. The Reverend gentleman is no stranger to this section as he has been coming to Elliot for the past 20 years and during that time has brought health and happiness to many young people. It was through his efforts that Mrs. Farmer, wife of Moses G. Farmer, gave the building known as Rosemary cottage for a recreation place for poor children of Boston. I doubt if any man has been more faithful to his trust than Rev. Mr. Waldron and if one wants any proof of it they should be at the local railroad station when a carload of young boys and girls pass through here for their two weeks outing at Rosemary cottage. This year the first arrival of young people from Boston will be on June 28.

Now that we are on the eve of another presidential campaign one is forcibly reminded that there has been a great change during the past thirty

CURRENT OPINION

Spirit of Militarism Grave Menace to American Democracy.

I would not be unfair to the men who had part in the recent preparedness parade. One could feel that for the most part they were animated by the high purpose of showing forth that if any nation counted on division or dissension within the ranks of our citizenship it was destined to a rude awakening.

And yet I could not escape the conviction that these men were being misled, misled into believing that we were in immediate danger of war, misled into believing that the imminent need of the republic was to prepare for war against possible and even probable enemies. But do the paraders understand that their unquestioned patriotism is being capitalized in the interests of a program of militarism, more gravely menacing to the American democracy than any foreign foe can ever become?

The world is mad—all the more reason for keeping our heads cool. Because the world sees red must we, too, see red? In truth the choice of centuries lies before us. Are we now greatly to increase our arms and prepare for war with nations bleeding white?

Are we to enter the armaments gamble in which every nation loses, and hell alone is victorious?—By Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Free Synagogue, New York.

ygars in the methods of trying to secure votes. The days of torchlight parades are a thing of the past. When torchlight parades were in vogue in this city everyone, even to the school-boy entered into the spirit with a zeal, but as the voter usually had his mind made up as to how he should cast his vote, it is a question as to how much influence these parades had towards swaying voters. Then again was the old time political cel pots where the faithful were wont to gather and make many a skate. The store of the late George B. Abbott on Congress street and the A. K. W. Green store on Water street were for years charmed as cel pots and the frequenters of these places were usually on the inside as to what was to take place.

Is it not about time that some one in authority in the city took steps to prevent the painting of advertisements on fences in the compact part of the city. A few years ago a vigorous crusade was waged against the practice of painting advertisements on stones and boulders in the country to good effect, on the ground that it marred the beauty of the landscape. Recently a fence on Vaughan street between Deer and the railroad crossing has been utilized for advertising purposes. If such acts as this mar the beauty of the landscape in the country, it is easy to imagine what an impression of our city will be conveyed to the many thousands of strangers who are obliged to pass by this particular spot in coming to or from our city. There is an old saying that the first impression formed of a place is a lasting one. Dependent as we are upon the summer business we should make our city as attractive as possible and not allow eye sores of this kind to exist.

PEOPLE and THINGS

Some one in authority should prevent the use of the play grounds being used by base ball teams on other than the regular diamond. Yesterday windows were broken in the residence of Michael Quinn by batted balls, and this is a daily occurrence. Other residents have been greatly annoyed and the lives of small children endangered.

Charles E. Woods, the well known auto dealer, is in New York to pilot three new Chevrolet autos over the road for customers. Mr. Woods is having a fine season and is delivering several new 1916 Cadillacs to customers the first of the coming week.

While in Chicago, the writer heard the theory advanced several times that the heavy rains of last season and this was the result of the constant discharging of big guns in Europe. This claim has been made in New England but it was surprising to hear it linked as a fact in Chicago. Whatever is the cause, it is doing much damage.

Two phenix scheduled for Sunday, up river, are certain to have a wet time all around unless the sun breaks out.

The Owl Club is scheduled to enjoy turtle soup of the real kind this Saturday evening. George Dawling has a monster turtle taken at York and it goes into the kettle for the Owls.

Preparations are going on for the big annual fair and this year the managers hope for general co-operation from the local business men. Our citizens could make this institution a big financial success for the city. Thousands of people can be attracted here for the week.

Carl B. Wetherell of Watertown, Mass., general manager of the Isles of Shoals conference, and the Oceanic Hotel corporation, was here today. He went to the Shoals on the steamer Mitchell Davis with a complete new kitchen equipment for the Oceanic. He predicts several thousand people at the famous hotel this season.

What a live railroad business man can do to remake a great railroad system has been demonstrated by President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. It is astonishing to the traveler who has not been over the B. & O. lines to see what a wonderful road President Willard has made from Philadelphia to Chicago. Starting from Philadelphia, one rides over a solid rock ballasted double track line through a picturesque country. All the way the trip from Washington via Harper's Ferry and many historic cities, through Pittsburgh, is rich with mountain scenery. The road, however, is laid through valleys parallel with swift flowing rivers. The through limited trains with their observation cars are most attractive and the writer found it possible to ride in comfort on the rear platform of the observation car during the entire day time of the trip. President Willard has made "Safety First" his watchword and it is over his line that President Wilson and the cabinet equipped and started the tour to teach American people safety in travel. President Willard is entitled to a great deal of credit for the wonderful success he has won in making the Baltimore & Ohio what it is today, one of the greatest railroads in the country.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, June 17.—Business in New England continues at the maximum and is restricted only by the physical limit of productive capacity, says the First National Bank in its June circular. The same condition prevails throughout the country. Not only is the volume of transactions in nearly every line of activity of vast proportions, but profits are highly satisfactory, the report says. As of interest along this line, is the splendid record of the Fall River cotton mills for the second quarter of 1916. Practically without exception, the mills at that

FACTFUL ADVERTISING

People are interested in merchandise and like to read about it. The advertising that attracts them and holds their interest is "factful." It is terse, to the point, well written, but above all else it gives information. People want to be shown.

Even if they are not personally interested in the goods advertised they regard the advertising as useful information. There is no better type of clean, factful advertising anywhere than the examples to be found each day in the columns of this newspaper.

MANY LOBSTER FRY PLANTED ALONG COAST

Four Million in Pepperell Cove and Six Million at Little Harbor.

The United States fish commission steamer Gannet has just finished a cruise along the coast between Portland and Portsmouth and has dumped into the sea nearly 26,000,000 fry. Of these 4,000,000 were liberated in Pepperell Cove, a similar amount at each of four other places, viz: Biddeford Pool, Kennebunkport, Ogunquit and Cape Porpoise, while 6,000,000 were dropped in Little Harbor, N. H. About 20,000,000 fry were also liberated on Wednesday at eastern points. The good results following the propagation work as carried on at the Boothbay hatchery is becoming evident, judging from the report concerning the catch of lobsters being made this season on the Maine coast, some of the more conservative fishermen acknowledging that they are now making better hauls than at any time within the past twenty years.

DUNKIRK AGAIN BOMBARDED

Four Persons Are Killed and Fifteen Wounded.

(Special to The Herald) Paris, June 17.—German aeroplanes have again bombarded Dunkirk, the war office announced today. Another squadron of machines shelled Bar to Duc. Four persons were killed and 15 wounded. The battle on the Veldron front is raging with all its former vigor. In the Vosges, the French by a series of strong attacks penetrated the first and second lines of German trenches at Hill 425. German troops delivered attacks with hand grenades against the French at Hill 301 west of the Meuse that were repulsed. The German artillery is shelling the French position with extreme violence.

point are running full time, and in the case of the cloth mills overtime is the rule. Increases in dividends are very noticeable, the average return for the quarter being 1.33 per cent. as against .87 per cent a year ago. While the Southern textile mills are in a fortunate position as regards labor, it is probably under-stating the case to say that ten per cent of New England's textile spindles are idle on account of a shortage of labor. This acute labor situation applies as well to other leading New England industries, and is significant in considering the improbability of further increases in production.

Rion J. Arnold, a street railway expert, says that the following reductions in the operation of the Bay State Street railway could be made: $125,000 cut in salaries of officers, clerks, and of office expenses; $145,000 to $234,000 through provision for increased speed; $100,000 through proper care of rolling stock; $35,000 reduction in direct current distribution loss; $52,000 to $133,000 reasonable service adjustment; $30,000 "one-man car on certain lines; $13,000 excess of needed expense of car houses. Total $612,000 to $759,000.

Samuel Hopkins Adams of the New York Tribune, speaking before the National Hardware Dealers' Association, in session here, said that in his investigations of advertising throughout the United States, he had never caught a grocer doing fraudulent advertising. He said they were either too honest or too smart for him. They show clean advertising but not much of it. This particular trade is peculiarly free, he said, from the prevalent temptation to advertise reduction values, as it would not appeal to a grocer to advertise that he was selling eggs that had been reduced in value from fifty cents to ten cents, and the reduction would not appeal to the public.

More than three thousand uniformed Boy Scouts met at the Stadium in Cambridge today for their second annual big rally. One hundred and seventy-eight troops took part in the day's events. The troops marched in review at 2.15 o'clock and afterwards numerous events took place. Gov. Samuel W. McCall reviewed the parade of the troops.

The Boston Opera House has been engaged for the evening of Thursday, July 6, for a big gala benefit entertainment for the Allied Hospitals' Relief Commission, similar in character and purpose to the brilliant and very successful benefit recently given for the Commission at the Billmore hotel in New York.

PANAMA CANAL ROUTE FOR FROZEN MEAT TRADE

London, June 16.—Shipping companies handling the frozen meat trade of New Zealand have hitherto rejected the Panama canal route, although it would save them over 1600 miles over the usual homeward passage by the Cape of Good Hope. Their argument was that the extra cost of refrigeration owing to the long time in the "hot water" added to the canal dues and the time spent in passing through the waterway, would more than offset the reduction in the mileage. It is now reported that the New Zealand shipping company has decided to send its steamers between London and Wellington by the Panama canal, both outward and homeward. So far, the other companies concerned have not announced any change, but a decision is expected very shortly.

ENGLISH GIRL BRIDE OF GIANT MACRI SOLDIER.

London, June 17.—A romantic wedding was celebrated at Walton-on-Thames when an English girl, Miss Winifred Alton, became the wife of a Maori soldier who had fought in Gallipoli and did not reach this country until eight weeks ago.

The bridegroom, Private Peter Pol, is like most of the Maoris—a man of majestic physique. He belongs to the Sixteenth New Zealand Regiment. He came to Walton as a patient in the Vexil Hospital and has been nursed back to health. He expects to return to New Zealand with his bride on home service.

U. S. SENATOR BURLEIGH DEAD

Formerly Governor of Maine and Always Prominent in Politics.

Augusta, Me., June 17—United States Senator Edwin C. Burleigh died on Friday night at his residence here. His death was due to acute indigestion and he had been ill only a few hours.

Senator Burleigh was born in Lincoln, Me., November 27, 1813. After graduating from Bowdoin Academy, he taught school and then began land surveying. He married Mary Jane, daughter of Lincolns in 1833. More than six feet tall and of fine physique Senator Burleigh made a commanding figure. He began his political life when he became state land agent in 1876 which office he held for two years. Previous to that time for six years he had served as clerk in the state land office and in the office of the state adjutant-general. From 1878 to 1889 he was assistant clerk in the legislature and was there for four years as a clerk in the state treasurer's office.

In 1885 he became state treasurer, which office he held for three years, after which he was elected governor of Maine. From 1889 to 1892 he continued as chief executive and then for a brief term dropped out of politics, although as publisher of the Kennebec Journal, which paper he purchased in 1887, he kept in touch with all political events.

In 1897 he once more entered active politics and was elected to congress from the third Maine district and held that office through 1911. The call for higher office then came, and in 1912 he was elected to the U. S. Senate for the term from 1913 to 1919.

His wife died in Washington one month ago.

KITTERY

The Juniors of Trapp Academy will present their play "Mr. Hob" at Academy hall, Tuesday evening, June 20, at 8 o'clock. This promises to be a lively play and full of humor. The cast of characters is as follows:

Philip Royson, Raymond H. Spencey
Robert Brown, clerk of Benson & Benson
Franklin W. Harvey
Rebecca Luke, a maiden lady
Isabelle M. Goodwin
Katherine Rogers, her niece
Bertha Emery
Marion Bryant, Katherine's friend
Marion Morrow

Patty, Miss Rebecca's maid.

Lillian Witham

Act I.—Breakfast room at Tresham;

time, morning.

Act II.—Same as in Act I; time, afternoon.

The synopsis follows: Philip Royson, a young physician, is an enthusiastic yachtsman. His aunt, Miss Rebecca Luke, has a mania for cats and her house is practically a home for destitute cats. His cousin, Kitty, tells him that she has invited her friend "Bob" to visit her, Philip, thinking "Bob" is a man, fixes up the room for Kitty's friend with his pipes and other things pertaining to the male. "Bob" arrives; Philip knocks upon his (7) door. The answer he gets convinces him that "Mr. Bob" has weak lungs. He rushes out of the door, saying that he would be formally introduced by Kitty. Meanwhile Mr. Brown comes down. He is mistaken for "Mr. Royson," "Mr. Saunders," "Mr. Bob," and several other persons. The mystery deepens. "Who is Mr. Bob?" is the question all ask. The best way to find out is to see the play next Tuesday night.

A. Monahan. Do not forget the weekly prayer meeting on Tuesday evening at 7:30. Following the prayer meeting will be a meeting of the Sunday school board. Let every Sunday school officer and teacher plan to be present at this meeting. The Pleasant Chapter meets on June 26 at South Eliot; plan to spend the day there. A fine program has been arranged.

It will be of interest to local people to learn that Chaplain A. J. Hayes, U. S. N., has been detached from the U. S. S. Rhode Island and ordered to the U. S. S. New Hampshire. Mr. Martin W. Campbell of Boston is passing the week-end with his sister, Mrs. William M. Forgrave of Otis avenue.

It is for the good of all and the best interests of the town that all voters should cast their ballots for Hon. Horace Mitchell in the primaries on Monday. His nomination and election would mean a better, bigger town, and more business here and at the navy yard.

Frank E. Taylor of Otis avenue left today for a visit with his daughters in Somerville, Brockton and East Weymouth, Mass.

Thesed news of the death of the infant son of Chaplain and Mrs. Allison J. Hayes, formerly of Kittery, at their home in St. Paul, Minn., on Friday, has been received here. Sincere sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved parents.

MULFORD FRESH AFTER LONG GRIND

Smooth, Steady Hudson Fails to Tire Driver in 24-Hour Run.

"Ralph Mulford was apparently not at all tired when he finished his 24-hour drive in a Hudson Super-Six stock chassis at Sheepscot Bay, said William C. Spear, Hudson Sales Representative for Manchester.

"The natural supposition was that after that long grind Mulford would be about 'all in.' First hand information from those right on the ground at every stage of the endurance test is that Mulford really was in first rate shape when he finished. "Naturally he felt the ordinary fatigue of sticking to his task for 24 hours. The same number of hours on any even light duty would entail more or less fatigue.

"The smooth, steady running of the car and its lack of vibration, made it possible for Mulford to drive the whole 24 hours without relief. To have driven a car less free from the usual motor vibration would have been a task too strenuous and nerve-racking for human endurance.

"The most remarkable endurance of both the Super-Six and its driver was made possible by this very smoothness of running and absence of motor vibration.

"People who drive touring cars have come to think that a 200 or 250 mile drive in a day is a big undertaking. They would find such a day's driving genuinely pleasurable and easy with a Hudson Super-Six. Many owners say that it is a more comfortable experience to drive a Super-Six 300 miles than to go 150 miles in the average vibrating, jerky-running motor cars."

ROWING RACES PLANNED BY THE YACHT CLUB

Announcement Made at Last Meeting of the Portsmouth Yacht Club of a Number of Interest- ing Events to Take Place Immediately

At a meeting held by the Portsmouth Yacht Club last evening plans were made for a part of their summer program and from the enthusiasm displayed by the members it is their intention to make 1916 a banner year in local yachting circles. Three events arranged by the committee were accepted and adopted: the first for Sunday, one for June 21, June 27, and part of the Fourth of July program. The committee has been busy for the past few weeks and expect to present a series of events for the Fourth of July that will be more interesting and better than any adopted during the history of the club.

On Sunday the club has planned a run to Little Harbor, leaving the Club at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and returning in the early evening. At 6:00 o'clock, or as near that time as possible after the return, a shower supper will be served. Practically every yacht and motor boat in the fleet has been made ready for the first club run of the season and the weather prophets of the waterfront have promised fair weather and a fine breeze.

On Wednesday, June 21 Charles E. Hatch, secretary of the club will be the guest of honor at a complimentary dinner. Mr. Hatch has served in the office of secretary for a number of years, having been re-elected year after year without opposition. He has been a faithful officer, putting in time and great effort to assist in making the club the success it has grown to be at the present time. The committee in charge of the dinner, serving under Commodore Lake Ashworth, are planning to make the occasion one not readily forgotten by their secretary.

The first moonlight sail of the season will be held on June 27, with a run from the Club to the Isles of Shoals. The trip will be made in one of the larger motor yachts belonging to the fleet and will be in command of Captain James Boardman.

The committee has been in conference with the commanders of three of the United States vessels now stationed here at Portsmouth and these officers reported to the committee last evening that they would assist in the waterfront sports for Independence Day. This program will include a great many events, among them a race between three four-oared dingys, manned by crews from the U. S. S. Montana, U. S. S. Washington and the U. S. S. San Francisco. The club has offered some valuable prizes for this event and the other rowing and sailing races which will be held. This race has been scheduled for 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon and will be pulled over a one-mile course, starting down the river and finishing opposite the club.

In the afternoon, following the water sports, a luncheon will be served at the club for the members of the several crews competing in the different events and another dinner is planned for the evening. Although the summer program has not been completed the officers of the club and the members feel satisfied that this will be one of the most successful in its history. There has been a decided increase of interest this season. In a return to sailing rather than motor driven yachts and the officers expect that some spirited races will be held on Saturday afternoons. More club runs are to be held and the visits between the Hay Haven Club of York and the Portsmouth Yacht Club, which were so successful last year, will be repeated this season.

With all the poor weather of the season to date the club has entertained a large number of yachting parties from other clubs along the New England coast. The reputation established several years ago by the local club for good fellowship and real hospitality has traveled for a wide and any party once enjoying a sample of the brand of hospitality served by the Portsmouth organization always makes an effort to return and get some more. And they have never been disappointed at the second, third or fourth visits.

"HOW BRITAIN PREPARED"

Official English Pictures of Preparation of 5,000,000 Civilians for War, to Be Seen at Shubert Theatre, Next Week.

At last Boston is to see a motion picture officially sponsored by the British Government. Next Monday at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, the public will learn from the films made under the direction of Charles Urban, one of the most timely lessons imaginable—"How Britain Prepared," how the late Lord Kitchener went about it to transform 5,000,000 civilians into a vast and efficient army in a year and a half. And they also will learn why the British were able safely to perform this gigantic task on their little island while the continent of Europe was being inundated in blood, when they see the motion pictures taken on board Jellison's great fleet of dreadnoughts as they patrol the North Sea, battling up their enemy in the harbor of Kiel.

"How Britain Prepared" was brought over here a short time ago by Mr. Urban, with permission of Mr. Balfour, the late Lord Kitchener, Lloyd George, of the British War Cabinet. It was shown to prominent motion picture impresarios. They struggled their shoulders; it wasn't what they wanted—no "blood and thunder business" in it; no "fake" fighting and all that sort of thing. Besides they would not for a moment consider the terms required to secure the privilege of showing it in the United States—a certain portion of which goes into the War Relief Fund of the Allies. So Mr. Urban had about concluded that the pictures would not be exhibited here, when by chance a wide-awake, broad-minded business man down town who had heard about them asked for a private showing. He brought a dozen men of his own stamp with him to the scene. When the first reel of the film had been run off there was only one opinion.

"What will it cost to show this lesson in preparedness to America?" he asked.

"$100,000," said Mr. Urban.

"Done," was the reply. "We'll take it over! And even if we lose all—which, if we judge the intelligence and sentiment of the American public rightly, we can't do—we'll have the consciousness of having performed a patriotic duty."

From the title an idea may be had of the subject-matter of the British Preparedness picture. Every detail in soldier-making and equipping is presented. We follow "Tommy Atkins" from the day he enlists until we see him 40,000 strong being reviewed by the King, and bid him "good-speed," as we see him leaping out of the windows of the train which takes him to the front—"to somewhere in France." All the details of his preparation are cinematographed—gun drills, sword drills, athletic exercises, trench digging, trench charging, bayonet attack, cavalry practice, machine gun work, light telegraph laying, barbed wire entanglement, bomb throwing. The picture also shows England's intensive munition activities. One reel was made in the great Vickers ordnance works. Specially notable is the picture showing tens of thousands of women doing men's work, making death-dealing materials as cheerily as if they were baking pies or running sewing machines.

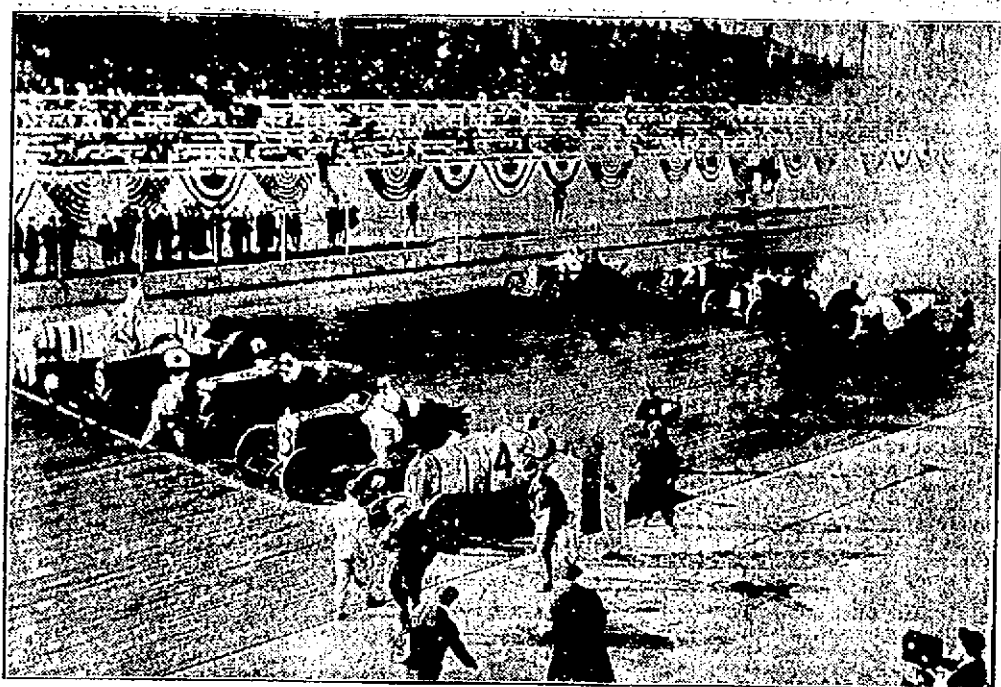

The North Sea fleet films are remarkable both for what they reveal of the mysterious power without which the fate of the Allies might have been decided in a few short weeks, and for their wonderful charm as works of art, as sea-scapes that would render any marine painter present or past envious of the magic of the Urban camera.

MAORIS WIN CHIPPING CONTEST AT FRONT

Near the British front in France, June 21—The Maoris of New Zealand are the champion tree choppers of the nationalities in the British army. They won their title in a great match against the Canadians and Australians.

It is said of the Maoris that many of them are too large to be accepted in the army. Almost all are Giants.

Hudson Super-Six Wins Big Money In Trophy Race

"The big surprise of the Metropolitan Trophy at 150 miles run off May 20th on the Sheepshead Bay Track, was the Hudson Super-Six in that classic motor racing event," said Harry Kilkenny, distributor for Portsmouth.

"The Super-Six Ira Vail used was 11-30, one of the first Super-Sixes shipped from the Hudson factory. It had been used as a demonstrator at the Hudson Brooklyn branch for nearly four months. Ira Vail, ambitious to become a race driver, and having no mount, tried to get hold of the Super-Six stock chassis used in the 24-hour endurance trial on May 2. Failing to get it, he determined to buy the Brooklyn demonstrator car.

It was successful and got it for $1,300, put in a high gear and cut 22 inches out of the frame. Equipping it with a racing body, he entered the slightly altered Super-Six in the big race at post time.

"The little Hudson Super-Six was scarcely considered to be in the running when the great Peugots and other specially built racing thunderbolts, with their famous drivers lined up for the struggle. In fact Vail's entry was laughed at by many who thought it was a joke in that company.

"Although the Super-Six did not show the speed of the formidable foreign entrants, it had the ability to keep going round and round in that 150-mile grind without a single stop at the repair pits. All the big fellows had their troubles one way or another. The most expensive car in the race was Joe Christian's Sunbeam, which ran second in the Coney Island Cup at 20 miles. It stayed out of the big race on account of engine trouble. And most of the big cars, one by one, took the count and dropped out on account of engine trouble of one sort or another. The Super-Six kept right on at the high pace made by the leaders running absolutely true lap after lap. When Vail brought the Super-Six across the tape a good third for $2,000 in prize money the crowd in the grand stand which had previously laughed at him, burst into a rousing cheer for him and the plucky little Hudson Super-Six."

CARRANZA THREATENS TO ATTACK AMERICAN FORCE

Should American troops enter Mexico in pursuit of the bandits who attacked Major Gray's cavalry at San Ignacio, they will be subject to attack by a Carranza force of a thousand men. This is the warning issued by General Alfredo Bleau, Carranza commander at Matamoros, who has notified American Consul Johnson of the position of these troops. Major Gray will not hesitate to enter Mexico because of this threat. It may be difficult, however, to pick up the rail of a sufficient number of the bandits to make pursuit profitable, for after the attack the Mexicans scattered "like quail" according to General Funston, and while most of them returned to Mexico, others fled through the brush on the American side. Coupled with the news of Bleau's warning comes a report from Mexico City as yet unconfirmed, that General Gaviro, who entered into a military agreement with General Pershing early this month, has been court-martialed and executed. Gaviro was called to Mexico City by Obregon following Trevino's repudiation of his agreement with Pershing. Trevino was Gaviro's superior.

Warning From Ricaut
Brownsville, Tex., June 16—One thousand Carranza soldiers, ordered to the border some days ago to reinforce the Carranza border patrol, are somewhere south of San Ygnacio, Tex., and should be a third American punitive expedition enter Mexico the two bodies of troops would clash according to General Alfredo Bleau, commander at Matamoros. General Ricaut notified American Consul Johnson of the position of these men and the information was conveyed to General James Parker, commanding the Brownsville district.

Hard to Catch Bandits
San Antonio, Tex., June 16.—Luis de la Rosa is believed to have sent across the border the bandits who early yesterday attacked a small detachment of the Fourteenth Cavalry at San Ignacio, 40 miles southeast of Laredo, killing three and wounding six American soldiers. De la Rosa who a week ago threatened to raid the border, is held prisoner by the Carranza authorities at Monterey.

A corrected list of the American casualties follows:

The Dead
Private Albinus, Troop M.
Private Charles F. Flowers, Troop M.
Private Edward Katchich, Troop M.
The Wounded
Private Thomas H. Ewing, Troop I.
Private James E. Rouch, Troop I.
(seriously.)
Corporal William Oberlies, Troop M.
Private William Minnetto, Troop M.
Private Tony Haylins, Troop M.
Private Henry Matasoff, Troop M.

For some time there had been keen rivalry on the subject of axe-throwing, so General Birdwood decided to have the question settled in open contest.

There was a goodly company of men in the forest where they had followed the sign posts through the glades to the rendezvous in the heart of it. The sun that filtered through the beech leaves and shot golden arrows between the tall, straight trunks, glowed on the bronze faces of the men who have come into this twilight of the old French woods from the glaze of the Egyptian desert and the rocks of Gallipoli.

Under their stonch hats, these clean-cut, clean-shaven boys of Australia and New Zealand look at home in the forest, of a kinship with the trees, and out of the thick undergrowth so rich and green in the fresh splendor of this May, came browner and darker men, gypsy-eyed fellows, who are the very children for forest life. With axes over their shoulders came the Maori wood choppers, keen for victory.

There was an Anzaco band among the trees, playing tagline, and to this made the first axe was set to work, at a signal from the judges who were mostly brigadiers. A number of trees had been marked out, and their girth had been measured nicely. Three men of one team competed with three men of another, and each team had three trees to fell, the aggregate time being reckoned for the award. Australians and New Zealanders competed with Canadians in each class of event.

The Canadians were fine men and they handled their axes with a cool craft, which was fine to watch, with clean cuts that hit out great chunks waist high in the stout tree trunks. But the Australians were faster. Astonishingly fast. Their service axes rose and fell with sharp stabbing blows that sliced through the trees so that the fillets fell like snow flakes. A great shout went up when the first tree was cut in two by one of these Australians.

But it was New Zealand which carried off the first prize for felling, and the Maori won it easily. Their work was beautiful to see, its swiftness and strength. There was a song of strength in the bodies of these brown men swinging with a perfect harmony of physical energy to the long sweeping strokes of the axe. Their arms were bare to the shoulders of their cotton vests.

The aggregate time in which they felled their three trees was 22 minutes 40 seconds, which was better by 23 minutes than the Canadians, whose aggregate time was 46 minutes 22 seconds. This difference is greater than it might have been because the Canadians did not produce their best team in time for the competition. It

REWARD OF $100 OFFERED

For Return of Miss Martha L. Stewart Who Eloped From Carrollton, O.

On April 10, 1916, Charles C. Wheatley married Miss Nellie Stewart of Carrollton, Ohio, and on June eloped with her 14 year old sister, Martha Leona Stewart. They were last seen in Canton, Ohio on the same day. The young girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Stewart, are naturally prostrated and are most anxious to learn her whereabouts which they have been unable to do up to the present time and The Herald has been asked to assist in the search for the missing couple. A reward of $100 is offered for the arrest and return of the couple to Sheriff George Galbraith of Carrollton.

The description of Miss Martha Leona Stewart follows:

Age 14 years, height about 5 feet, weight 105, gray eyes, brown hair, fair complexion, dressed in light gray jacket suit with belt, white waist, white silk hose, black patent leather one-strap pumps, white Panama hat with black band and trimmed in pink forget-me-nots, small gold locket, gold bracelet, small diamond ring on left middle finger, plays piano and sings, and may be found on vaudeville stage.

Description of her companion, Chas. C. Wheatley:

Age 20, height about 5 feet 6 inches, weighs 140 pounds, brown hair, small squinty brown eyes, small red birthmark on each lower eye-lid, mole on left cheek, scar under chin, dressed in blue suit (George Timlin's name on inside coat pocket), straw hat, purple tie, black button shoes, dragon tattoo on lower right arm, sailor and two snakes on lower right arm inside, carried ladies' gold watch with initial "C" on it, (Duchess-Hampden, Canton, Ohio) and gentleman's silver open-faced watch, white silk shirt with blue stripes and pearl cuff links, shoe buck with M. J. Lannahan's name, served six years in navy, sings and dances and may be found on vaudeville stage.

Got a Herald flag for July 4.

LOCAL CITIZEN GIVEN $50,000

W. B. Trask, Late of Erie, Pa.,
Remembers a Relative,
Howard R. Smith, in His Will.

The will of the late W. B. Trask of Erie, Pa., probated on Thursday gives the distribution of several millions, and gives to Howard R. Smith, the son of Mr. Trask's cousin, Louis R. Smith of this city, the sum of $50,000. Mr. Trask gave to local charities in Erie $277,000.

The bequest gave Mr. Smith this morning the first information that he had received such a gift from his relative. His many friends will rejoice at his good fortune.

Mr. Trask was born in Taunton, Mass., May 30, 1836. On May 23, 1865 Mr. Trask married Miss Susan E. Walker, daughter of the late Hon. Herion D. and Ellen C. Walker. For several years he was a dry goods merchant in Portsmouth and for nearly forty years has been the senior partner of the firm of Trask, Prescott and Richardson of Erie, Pa. He was a resident of Portsmouth for ten years and his place of business was located on Daniel street.

Photograph 4 in his will reads: "I give and bequeath to Howard R. Smith, son of my cousin, Louis R. Smith of Portsmouth, N. H., the sum of $50,000."

Paragraph 23 reads: "I give and bequeath to Howard R. Smith of Portsmouth, N. H., ten volumes of Century Dictionary now in my library. All of my other books go to my wife, Susan E. W. Trask."

Mr. Trask made large bequests to the Red Cross and various church societies. The Young Women's Christian Society receives $10,000, and also $100,000 for a home for the Y. W. C. A. All of the employees of Mr. Trask's store were left from $500 to $10,000 each.

Mrs. Trask is a native of this city and at present has relatives here. Paragraph 14 reads as follows:

"I, And now, having disposed of upwards of $500,000 there should be left in my estate the amount of $200,000, which amount, whatever it may be, be it more or less, I give and bequeath to my wife, Susan E. W. Trask together with any other property not hitherto mentioned, that I may be possessed at the time of my death."

And I request her, as my last request, to immediately make her own will and dispose of her property as she in her good judgment shall wish. I would like to have Howard R. Smith have 100 shares of H. P. Watson Co. stock and 200 shares Mutual Telephone stock, and the balance of the $50,000 left him, either in cash or in securities as my executors may elect.

"I hereby appoint as executors of this my last will and testament, my wife, Susan E. W. Trask and Charles W. Prescott, both residents of the city of Erie, Pa. In witness hereof I have hereunto set my hand and seal and acknowledged in the presence of these witnesses this document to be my last will and testament on this 24th day of April, 1914."

(Signed) WILLIAM B. TRASK.

BULLET HOLES IN THE WINDOWS

Shots Fired at Laundry Building From Railroad Track.

The proprietors of the Central Steam laundry reported to the police today that several panes of glass in the rear of the building were smashed by bullets during the night. The firing was done from the tracks of the Boston & Maine yard. The police investigated but could find nothing to throw any light on the matter.

SOLDIERS ON THE WAY TO TEXAS

Special Train With Four Companies From Portland Harbor Pass Through Dover.

Four companies of the coast artillery from Portland harbor passed over the western route of the Boston & Maine through Dover in a special train of 5 cars on Friday. They were bound for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for border duty.

The special train drawn by a Pacific type locomotive, was made up of a tourist car, five coaches and three baggage cars, one of the latter cars being converted into a mess car for cooking and serving meals en route. The train was in charge of Conductor Berry of Portland, who ran the train to Ayer where it was turned over to the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad. A representative of the Nickel Plate railroad was aboard the train, to keep that road informed of the movements of the train preparatory to its reaching that system. There were over 200 soldiers in the detachment.

I WONDER

Why the next Republican candidate for mayor was picked so early?

What the committee on fire department are going to do about this fire alarm?

If the weather man is going to give us this brand of weather on circus day?

Who is the dark horse candidate for senator from the 24th district and why some of the bids have been quietly removed from the ring?

Why Daniel, Congress and Islington streets and part of Greenland road cannot be named as one street?

Why one straight stretch of the public highway has been allowed to carry four different mounds?

Why the Portsmouth navy yard has never had any torpedo boat destroyers assigned to the station as home port?
